Summary

My desire to be an actor in films that showcased my particular skill set is what led me to create my own content as a dedicated writer and producer. Earning a 'Bachelor of Fine Arts' degree in musical theater, fine tuned my ability to write fun, engaging works with my own unique approach with an Actor's mindset. While I write for all genres, I specialize in comedy sketch writing and enjoy utilizing my improvisation skills when adapting scripts. I pride myself on my ability to multitask, meet deadlines, and always improve, which has made it easy to collaborate with like minded artists to produce interesting content.
